

TEAM WORKS

J. MARK WALKER

Mark Walker is Vice President of Client Development for Integrity Solutions®, a 40 year old professional services firm that specializes in changing the way organizations acquire and retain loyal customers. Mark has worked in a consultative role with senior managers in business, industry and government for more than twenty five years. He has more than thirty years' experience as a seminar coordinator, workshop leader and adult teacher.

Mark is a skilled facilitator in sales development, customer service training and sales coaching. He has also conducted workshops in effective listening skills, time management, behavior styles, goal setting, and project management. In his training career, Mark has helped more than thirty five thousand people increase their effectiveness in all areas of life.

Mark is also a proven sales leader, having been a top producer in every organization in which he has served in a sales capacity.

A graduate of the University of Minnesota, Mark has done graduate work in Human Resources Development at George Washington University. He is a volunteer Boy Scout leader, a retired Navy Reserve Captain and Membership Vice President for the Atlanta Vietnam Veterans Business Association. He is a volunteer "Ambassador" for the Cobb County Chamber of Commerce and the Facilitator of their Tuesday morning "Business Builders" personal growth networking group. Mark is married to Dr. Judy C. Walker, a licensed family therapist. He and Judy are the parents of four, and the grandparents of nine.
