

Terms and Conditions

- a. Participation and Teams
 - i. Students from any Georgia Post-Secondary institution who were enrolled at any point in 2016 are welcome to participate.
 - ii. Additionally, individuals 18 years and older regardless of job function or company affiliation are permitted to serve on student teams.
 - iii. Teams cannot be more than 5 participants plus and advisor and must contain at least 3 student team members as defined in rule a(i).
 - iv. Teams may be developed before the event or on-site of the event
 - v. Teams are encouraged to be diverse in school, age, and skill sets.
 - vi. Each Registrant may only participate in one (1) team. Each team may only present one (1) solution/project.
 - vii. Teams will be asked to show their solution in a 3 minute presentation on November 19, 2016 around 3pm. (EDIT: PRESENTATIONS START AT 2PM) Finalists will be selected from these presentations and the winner will be announced at the Health IT Leadership Summit.
 - viii. Registration in the HIT HACK Challenge means that you agree to abide by these terms and Conditions.
- b. Registration
 - i. Students and challenge participants should register to compete online through TAG's registration portal.
 - ii. Students must use their school-provided email address during registration.
 - iii. Groups must submit a final team signup form at the designated time during the challenge.
- c. Submissions
 - i. All submissions to the competition remain the intellectual property of the Registrants or team of Registrants that developed them. By registering, consenting to the terms of the Hackathon, and entering a Submission, however, the Registrant hereby grant Technology Association of Georgia, Sponsors, their respective affiliates, and their affiliates' agents, without additional consideration, a worldwide, perpetual, irrevocable, non-exclusive right and license, with the right to discuss, publicize and otherwise display content derived from or relating to the Challenge Entry ("Marketing Content"), and to distribute and use such Marketing Content for promotional and marketing purposes (either in the form submitted or in the form of a derivative or adapted work). You understand that Registrants will not receive any compensation or credit for use of your Challenge Submission, other than what is described in these Terms and Conditions.
 - ii. Submissions: (a) must be the original work product of the Registrants; (b) must not violate the intellectual property rights or other rights, including but not limited to, copyright, trademark, patent, contract, and/or privacy rights, of any other person or entity; and (c) may contain open source code as long as each such element of open source code is identified, and Registrant or team of Registrants (if applicable) has complied with applicable open source use terms and conditions.

Terms and Conditions

- iii. Each team may only submit one (1) entry, which is to be in English and should consist of the application/website, a link to the working source code, the application login credential, a written description and provide a 3 minute demo and presentation of the submission. Prototype and beta applications/websites are acceptable, though more points may be awarded for completed projects. Supporting materials are also welcomed, such as slide decks, algorithms, or dataset tracks. Additional instructions regarding project submission will be provided closer to the submission deadline.

d. Judging

- i. Each entry will be judged as it is presented according to a standard judges' rubric. Entries will be judged on the following criteria: creativity & innovation, technical design, thoroughness & clarity, feasibility & usability, implementation & impact, and the judges' overall impression. Each criteria will be awarded up to 5 points. See sample judges' rubric provided.

e. Other

- i. Each campus is to identify one faculty point of contact for communication with the organizing committee for the purposes of receiving marketing communications and program updates.
- ii. The hackathon winners will be announced on-site at Health IT Leadership Summit on December 7, 2016.
- iii. Conference tickets will be provided for each finalist team limited to one ticket per team member.